

I want my magazine to invoke a feeling of wonder and curiosity in the readers. I want the colors to be soft but enough to capture the attention of the viewers through a contrast of the subject and the background behind them. I want readers to be able to look through the pages and have the feeling of a whimsical sense of beauty be all that they see, and that they can feel them in themselves. Whether those pages be digital or physical, I want that feeling to be what engages the audience the most.

I would want my magazine to be accessible through digital and physical distribution. I want it to be able to have a wide range of access. So, by giving the option for both, people would be able to have it safely online with the option to order a digital copy. I feel like it would be able to reach the most people this way.
